

Aquafactors (formerly Tucker Pole) are looking for a Sales Manager to handle and develop business for their water fed poles and water treatment systems. The company is involved with some prestigious accounts both here and abroad.

The applicant needs to have a background in the industry or in commercial water treatment. Training will be given where necessary. The applicant needs to be a 'hands on' person, practical as well as administratively capable as well as being a good communicator. It would be preferable if the person lived in, or could move to the Thames Valley, or Hampshire, as our offices are in Basingstoke. Salary / commission would be commensurate with experience and related to the importance of the position.

In the first instance please e-mail CV to Alan Matthews at: alan.matthews@aquafactors.co.uk